

Welcome to Edenville!

Here's what's new:

- Book Two of the Pine Valley series is in production for a May 2021 release!
- Mothers of Pine Way continues the story begun in Fathers of Edenville
- Reviews are already coming in!
- The Pine Valley series will be available online internationally!

Don't Forget Fathers of Edenville this Christmas!

Give family and friends a copy of Fathers of Edenville for Christmas! It's a perfect gift for the winter season. It's available just about everywhere! Check online at Amazon and Barnes and Nobel, plus Target and Walmart, too. If you'd like to support small, independent bookstores, check out the online bookseller, Bookshop. They give a percentage of profits to independent bookstores. Also, if you live on the California Central Coast, purchase it in person at The Book Loft in Solvang, The Lompoc Bookstore, and the Dana Adobe Cultural Center gift shop. Thank you, for supporting your local author and local bookstores! Sincerely, from yours truly, Corrine Ardoin ;)

"This is a beautiful story that truly cares about small communities, a book that cares about community so much as to not only focus on the ease and pleasantries but on the critiques of it as well."

- Independent Book Review

Fathers of Edenville continues to receive positive reviews . . .

Here's the latest from Reader's Favorite:

"Author Corrine Ardoin has crafted a beautifully complex tale of affairs, secrets, family dramas, losses, and lies, and one which any fan of contemporary drama will be sure to adore from cover to cover. I would certainly recommend it and the author to literary fiction fans everywhere."

K.C. Finn

